

What Is Your C-Suite Hiding?

Most corporate crime is carried out by people in high-profile positions.

Companies that selectively or lightly screen new executives and board members are the most vulnerable to corporate fraud and corruption.

58% of company fraud is committed by management and executives.

They've been lying a long time. 48% of internal crime is committed by employees with 6+ years of career experience.

“Asset Misappropriation” is the most common type of fraud. The median loss: £86,000.

Impact of Executive Fraud on Companies

Bad executives take up to a year to replace, a process that can cost up to 3x their salary.

SOURCES: ¹PriceWaterhouseCooper 2014 Economic Crime Survey | ²Strategy& (formerly Booz & Company) 2013 Chief Executive Survey | ³ACFE 2014 Global Fraud Study | ⁴IC Partners Exec Search Worldwide | ⁵U.S Department of Labor

BishopsServices

A SterlingBackcheck Company

CORPORATE DUE DILIGENCE BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS
BishopsServices.com | 07825 229705 | g.dingwall@bishopservices.com

To learn how your organization can avoid a bad executive hire, download our latest white paper on executive investigations at:

www.sterlingbackcheck.co.uk/Resources/White-Papers.aspx